SHOW

June 23 - Igreja Nova

2.00 PM - 3.00 PM

“Formoscópio” by A Bolha - Teatro com Marionetas

Formoscópio is a game with geometric shapes that create different scenarios and environments when manipulated by the two actors on stage. They play, dance and are surprised by what they find and sometimes discover that they are not the only "living" things in that gaming scenario. The shapes sometimes combine to create other characters that soon dissolve again and become part of a magical scenario in constant metamorphosis.

A show without words where the shapes, the body and the music tell the story in their constant game of hide, seek and shuffle. The music establishes the rhythm, the personality of the shapes, and also dialogues with both forms and actors challenging them to one more game.
